Reply to editor comments on “Headwater sediment dynamics in debris flow catchment: implication of debris supply using high resolution topographic surveys” by A. Loye et al.

Response to the last comments before publication

The comment about the title was considered as suggested, as we think to be a very good suggestion.

The reviewer’s efforts were acknowledged as it should be in the chapter dedicated to that at the end of the manuscript.

The correction was made p. 20/L.14 as asked.
